

Lettoch is located in Highland Perthshire, just 90 minutes drive from Edinburgh, and two hours drive from both Aberdeen and Glasgow. We are well served by both road (A9) and rail.

Driving Directions:

Approaching Lettoch from the South on the A9 take the exit 4 miles north of Pitlochry (at the snow gates) signposted Blair Atholl / Bruar. Approaching from the north this exit is signposted Blair Atholl / Killiecrankie. The exit leads down to the old A9 road (now B8079). Turn left here in the direction of Killiecrankie. Half a mile down the road, just after the hamlet of Auld Clune there are three houses sat back off the road on the left. Immediately after the third house a small lane rises up through the trees. Take this lane, winding your way up the hill and underneath the 'new' A9. Passing under the bridge looking straight up the field in front of you you will see Lettoch. Take the first left turn switching back up the hill until you reach Lettoch, the first house and steading you come to.

Rail:

Pitlochry is well served by rail from both Edinburgh & Glasgow.

Air:

We are 1 hour 20 minutes drive from Edinburgh Airport and about 2 hours from Glasgow Airport. Arrangements can be made to meet flights and drive individuals and groups to Lettoch.
